

Yale Breast Cancer Summit: Translating the SABCS into Practice

Friday, January 29, 2027

Snow date: Friday, February 5, 2027

7:15 AM — 2:00 PM In-person, New Haven Lawn Club, New Haven, CT

Scan the QR Code to Learn More & Register

REGISTRATION FEES

Registration is complimentary; however, we require you to register to account for seating and meals.

RSVP & DETAILS:
https://yale.cloudcme.com/POSTSABCS_2027

CONTACT:
cme@yale.edu

The San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium (SABCS) Annual Meeting provides the latest advances and research in breast cancer medicine. Recognizing many local clinicians are unable to attend every session, this one-day program brings key updates from the SABCS directly to our local community. Yale Cancer Center faculty will present the latest findings and clinical insights for oncologists, pathologists, radiologists, gynecologists, general internists and researchers.

YALE CANCER CENTER COURSE DIRECTOR

Maryam Lustberg, MD, MPH

*Professor of Medicine (Medical Oncology and Hematology)
Yale School of Medicine*

YALE CANCER CENTER & SMILOW CANCER HOSPITAL PRESENTERS

Mitchell Elliott, MD
Melinda Irwin, PhD

Ian Krop, MD, PhD
Lajos Pusztai, MD

Mariya Rozenblit, MD

KEYNOTE LECTURE:

Emerging Translational Advances in Breast Cancer: Are they ready for prime time?

PRESENTED BY:

Eric Winer, MD

*Alfred Gilman Professor of Pharmacology and Professor of Medicine (Medical Oncology)
Director, Yale Cancer Center
President and Physician in Chief, Smilow Cancer Hospital
Deputy Dean for Cancer Research, Yale School of Medicine*

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

This live activity is approved for a maximum of 4.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The Yale School of Medicine, Department of Internal Medicine, Section of Medical Oncology and Yale Cancer Center are grateful to their supporters.

Yale
Continuing Education for Healthcare
Professionals

